

ABSTRACT

A compact disk (CD) case includes a first side and a second side, the first and second sides being moveable to open and close the case. A viewing window in a selected portion of at least one of the first and second sides allows viewing of the CD while the case is in the closed position. The CD case is suitable for mailing unsolicited marketing materials on a CD to an intended recipient.

40041927

PAGE TWO OF THREE